21st Century Libraries Are For Everyone:
Serving the Needs of our Most Vulnerable Community Members

Libraries of all types are bastions of democracy, access, intellectual freedom, diversity and the public good. Our profession's core values propel us to serve patrons, students, and faculty in a wide variety of ways. We must continue promoting the value of libraries to enrich our communities.

Loida Garcia-Febo, is President Information New Wave, ALA President-Elect, and IFLA Governing Board Member. Her interactive keynote will bring together concepts of libraries of all types as pillars of education and at the intersection of human rights, universal access to information, serving diverse and multiethnic populations, and making your library a welcoming place to all members of the community.

After participating in this keynote, you'll be able to:

- Build your library service profile identifying vulnerable populations in the communities served.
- Implement creative marketing and communications strategies to reach out to these populations.
- Implement equity, diversity and inclusion practices to serve vulnerable populations.
- Advocate for providing library services to all in our communities.

LibraryLinkNJ services are funded by the New Jersey State Library, which is responsible for the coordination, promotion and funding of the New Jersey Library Network.
